

13th

V I R T U A L

europaean
seminar

EVS

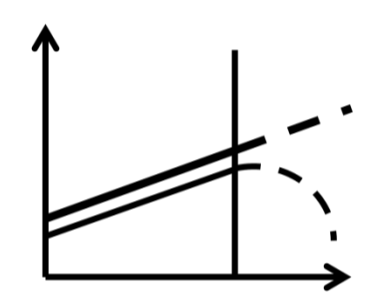

on Sustainable Development WS 2014/2015

The European Virtual Seminar on Sustainable Development (EVS):
An international, multidisciplinary endeavour of geographically distributed students

Tentative elective topics:

Climate Adaptation in Coastal Regions

Decoupling of Environmental Pressure from Quality of Life

Sustainable Tourism and the Region

Communication Strategies for Sustainable Development

Urban Waste Management

Social Capital in Sustainable Regional Development

REDD and Climate Change

Geoconservation in Hateg Country
Dinosaur Geopark

Students at the Master's level

- ✓ collaborate and work in multi-disciplinary and multicultural teams
- ✓ will focus on international and trans-disciplinary topics
- ✓ elaborate on case studies
- ✓ use modern e-learning environments
- ✓ will be coached by a tutor, advised by an expert, and supervised by a local lecturer

Workload: 5 ECTS plus 1 ECTS for local activities at the home university

Registration: before 10 October 2014 via e-mail to contact

More information - visit <http://www.ou.nl/evs>

Contact:

Thomas Klenke (thomas.klenke@uni-oldenburg.de)

Leena Karrasch (leena.karrasch@uni-oldenburg.de)

University of Oldenburg COAST – Centre for Environment and Sustainability Research