

Dienstag, 21.11.2017, 16.15 Uhr in W0 0-001

Indradip Mitra

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ), Indien

Large solar radiation resource assessment initiative in India

India has world's largest pyrheliometric solar radiation measurement network called SRRA (Solar radiation resource assessment). This led to bankable solar and weather database in India. Also a new and improved solar radiation atlas was launched using this data along with satellite derived values. This presentation intends to describe the SRRA network, its composition, quality control, functioning and key applications.